

By Phat

OVER the camel entrance to the Riverside County Fair and Date Festival entrance is an Arabic inscription . . . underneath is the word, "Richard." . . . Harry Oliver, former movie set designer, who designed the front of the fair grounds, believes in authenticity . . . he got in touch with a former GI, who served as liaison man in Arabia and had been furnished the proper inscriptions. . . . The Arabic letters above the word "Richard" over the camel door mean: "Open the Door!"

SPEAKING of camels makes me think of that Villager who stood on Palm Canyon drive the other day as a load of camels went to India for the fair. . . . They were borrowed from Hollywood. . . . This Villager is a dispenser of potables by trade. . . . As he saw those camels he said: I hope they don't stay here . . . think of it . . . seven days without a drink! . . . In town this week was an interesting woman, Stella Brunswick, who is handling earring guards. . . . She's really got something there. . . . Often I have heard Mrs. G cry in anguish: "Oh, where is that earring?" . . . The little gadget she has which holds 'em is being made by disabled veterans and is going over big with women who are always losing those little ornaments. . . . The device is a big help to husbands who have to listen. . . . Several local jewelers have the product.

THE MAIL this week tapered off on the St. Patrick's day error. But there were still a few. Ray Cree said: "When you held Mrs. G responsible for the error it reminded me of the old saying: 'He met disaster like a man; he blamed it on his wife.'" . . . A telephone call yesterday said: "Well, at least your fellow workers believe in you. Saw Grant Wood with a green necktie. Tell him to save it for March 17." . . . Nicest letter came from Kurt Reineman, noted artist, formerly of Cathedral City. . . . He's moving away and at the end of his letter, saying that because of his roving he would have to discontinue The Sun, he wrote: "May I express my enjoyment of 'Phat's' column. I shall miss it." . . . That's really nice.

WITH THE ARRIVAL of Lent, I cannot mention places to sit, noon-time naps or those goofy people riding on rubber. . . . I said I'd give up those things during Lent. . . . But I have a good substitute. . . . Man came in this week and asked why not get after the city to plant more trees? . . . In Ontario, California, they have a planning commission measure which sets forth that anytime a permit is granted to remove a tree, the person taking them out must plant two in its stead. . . . as a result, that town is full of trees. . . . Remember Euclid avenue? . . . It has more palms than Palm Springs—but no springs. . . . The protest came in because the man said he had seen some ruthless chopping down of trees. . . . "When they plant new trees they should plant Palo Verde trees," they're best during our tourist season," he added.

STILL HARPING on the subject—today's your last chance to help out the youngsters in their Youth Center more. . . . they need $10,000 and latest reports say they are still far short of the amount. . . . It's for a great cause. . . . Don't pass those tables where the youths of Palm Springs sit. . . . Chunk it in for the boys and girls of Palm Springs. . . . The teen-agers need all the help you can give them. . . . And while talking about chunking it in, don't forget the Legion, they can use a lot of help, too. . . . And they will help you.

THE VILLAGE got into the national magazines this week when a story by Barbara Schilly was accepted by "Holiday," a magazine devoted to resort life. . . . Miss Schilly, by the way, writes columns for The Desert Sun and maybe the local blue pencil helped her out in styling her writing. . . . The Tanner Motor Livery of Palm Springs can well feel proud . . . at a dinner meeting the other night, it was brought out that the local company had a very low incidence of traffic accidents compared to other branches of the company. . . . The Curtis Publishing company has really been doing right by the desert area. . . . this week's issue had another article—the third—about what's being done to make the desert bloom.

HERE THIS WEEK on a visit was Dorothy Varnum . . . she used to write "Dots and Dashes" for The Sun . . . she's now in Las Vegas but her heart's still in the Village. . . . "It makes me so mad to hear people say at Las Vegas that Palm Springs is dead—don't go there . . . and it makes me madder to find out that your own people are the basis for this talk. . . . All should be optimistic . . . spread the glad talk instead of the sad talk, she said. . . . People want to go where all the other people go . . . and if the local real estate and business men broadcast the fact that people are coming here, they all will." . . . She's got something there. . . . All they need to do is take a picture of the lack of parking places here to prove it.

Say Stables To Re-open In 15 Days

Legal Kinks Ironed Out and Popular Spot To Open Soon

The Stables, closed when Jimmy Collins, involved in the three-quarters million dollar Mergenthaler Linotype swindle was discovered, will open its doors for business perhaps within 15 days, it was learned on reliable authority yesterday.

Originally known as Rogers' Stables and one of the most popular night spots in the Village under the management of Trav Rogers, its founder, the property, including the on-sale liquor license, was sold to a syndicate headed by Charley Morrison, Hollywood night club operator. When the Mergenthaler swindle was exposed, Jimmy Collins of New York City was revealed as holding a share in The Stables.

Robert Newman, of New York City, is reported to be holding the largest investment in the closed Stables and is reported to have paid off all indebtedness, amounting to more than $150,000.

An authority which has been handling one side of the financially tangled Stables, announced that most of the kinks have been ironed out and it is planned by those in control now, namely Newman, to open the establishment for business within 15 days.

Story has it, that a well-known Villager may manage or lease the business for operation under the incorporation of The Stables.

Fair and Date Festival Under Way at Indio

Entrance gates to the Riverside County Fair and Date Festival opened yesterday and attendance shows early signs that all previous records would be broken during the four-day run of the show.

Guests are expected from throughout Southern California, it was reported, and Sunday will see the biggest crowd jammed on the fair grounds.

In addition to displays of dates, agricultural and horticultural products, horses, cows and swine will also be shown.

Entertainment at the show will be featured with a camel race in addition to a circus show and carnival displays.

Dog-Gone

Formidable-Looking Boxer Quiets Thief

Nutsie, 11-year-old Boxer, is ordinarily a mild-mannered dog but does look formidable. And because of this, two burglary suspects are in custody today.

Barney R. Wurlitzer, 63-year-old chairman of the board of the Rudolph Wurlitzer company, captured one suspect Tuesday afternoon while the dog looked on.

Held until police arrived and took him into custody was husky 18-year-old Harvey Luper, asserted army deserter, who only a few minutes before, was accused of gaining entrance to the Wurlitzer home, 591 Linda Vista drive.

ALSO HELD was Bob Strong, 18, also listed as an army deserter, who is accused of having entered the home with Luper, but made his escape. He was picked up by officers as he emerged from the grounds of the Frances S. Stevens school with Louis van Dolzer, also allegedly AWOL from the service.

On arriving home at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Wurlitzer noticed that the door leading into the boiler room had been smashed open and instantly suspected that the house had been entered by burglars. Going into the house they saw that the front door was wide open and that confirmed their suspicion of burglary.

THEN, according to Mr. Wurlitzer, he and his wife started through the house to see if anything was missing, little suspecting that a burglar was still in the home. Suddenly, Mrs. Wurlitzer saw what later proved to be Luper, emerging from one of the bedrooms, and her husband immediately grappled with the intruder, and at the same shouted at his wife to call the police.

The sight of the dog standing near his master, and the hard

Delay in Oil Strike Relief To Villagers

Effect Here More Than in Other Southland Areas

Villagers heard with relief yesterday that the contemplated CIO strike against refineries in five western states had been postponed indefinitely.

For the strike would have affected Palm Springs more severely than many other southland communities.

The Village depends upon the products of the oil fields for its principal industry—the tourist industry. They come here by automobile, bus, airplane or train—and all four of these means of travel are directly dependent on the oil fields.

BESIDES transportation, the strike would also have affected restaurants and cafes, homes and hotels, by cutting off the natural gas supply which supplies much of the fuel for cooking and heating.

The local supply, for instance, comes from more than a score of oil fields in the state, ranging from Kettleman field in Kern county to the Southern California fields. A strike of CIO workers in those fields would seriously curtail the supply of natural gas for cooking and heating.

ALL FORMS of transportation would be affected if gasoline supplies ran low should the strike last for some time. Bus service, private automobile travel and airplane service would be restricted by shortening of gasoline supplies. Railroad travel would feel the effect of fuel oil shortage.

Many winter residents here who had contemplated cutting their visits short in order to get home before the gasoline shortage, changed their minds today when they heard the strike had been postponed and are staying on.

Double Show at Field Club on Sunday

Palm Springs' Los Compadres and the American Legion today were set for a big double-header show at the Field Club, Sunday.

The active riding group will sponsor a combined quarter-horse race and western show, and the Legion will give away 13 valuable gifts, the list being headed by a DeSoto sedan.

OPENING ABOUT 2 P. M., the Compadres show will be headlined by several fast races between quarter horses from several parts of Southern California. These have been arranged by Phil Delano, race chairman. He has been assured that the turnout of the fast nags will be the best yet in the series of events sponsored by the riding group.

Western events, interspersed between races, have been arranged

Snakes

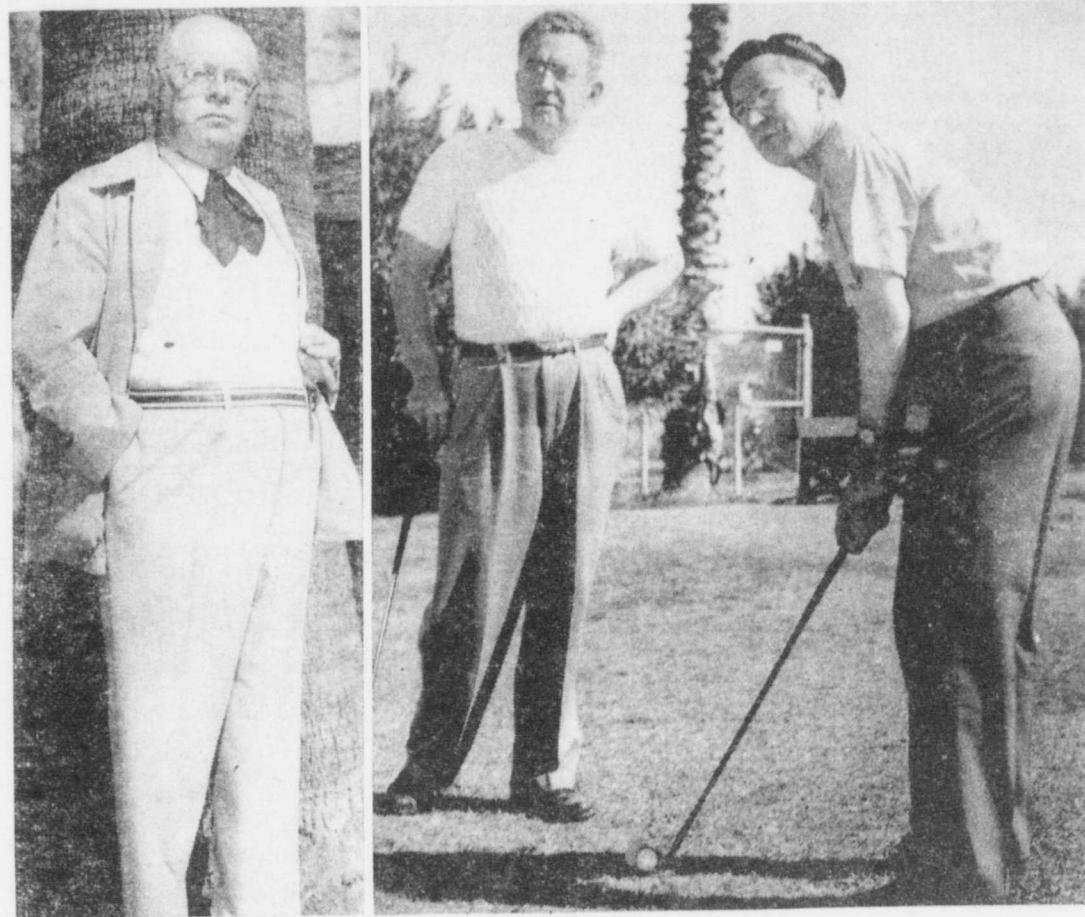

One Chance in Several Thousand of Being Bitten

Debunking many of the public's mistaken ideas about rattlesnakes, Lloyd Mason Smith, director of the Desert Museum addressed the Palm Springs Rotary club at the Desert Inn Wednesday.

Mr. Smith, introduced by Ernest Alschuler, member of the board of directors of the museum, told the Rotarians, among whom were 73 visiting club members from throughout the world, that their chances of ever being bitten by rattlesnakes is one in several thousand. He described as untrue the common report that rattlesnakes attack humans, declaring that the snake will "spit away faster than a human" if that is possible.

He also classed as untrue the common belief that the sidewinder is more poisonous than the larger members of the rattlesnake family. He said the sidewinder is far less poisonous than several larger of the reptiles.

Anyway, travelers over the desert should have little worry about snakes for another month or six weeks as they will be in hibernation until then, the museum expert said.

REPUBLICANS—Palm Springs this week, became the vacation headquarters of three national leaders in the Republican party. Arriving here last Tuesday evening was Chairman of the National Republican Committee, Carroll Reece, and his wife and William Murphy, in charge of publicity, and Mrs. Murphy. Here for the second season is James S. Kemper, treasurer, of the same committee. Left to right, Kemper, Murphy and Reece. (Photo by Desert Camera Shop.)

Small-Sized Burglar Raids Village Depot

Burglaries which have been plaguing the police department over a period of ten months were believed to have been solved today with the arrest of a 14-year-old, tow-headed boy, who is said by police to have confessed to eight burglaries.

BREAK in solution of the mysterious chain of burglaries, beginning with the first one last April, came today when police followed tell-tale footprints leading from the back door of the Greyhound bus depot, entered sometime during last night, to a house situated on the Indian Reservation.

Bob Phillips and Harry Houghton, police officers who were investigating the latest burglary and who followed the trail to the house, quickly associated the home with that of a juvenile who had given the police trouble in the past. Playing a hunch, the officers quickly made their way to the Nellie Coffman junior high school and there asked to see their young suspect.

WHEN HE WALKED into their presence wearing tennis shoes and a subsequent inspection proved that the diamond designed pattern of the soles tallied with the footprints behind the bus depot, the police felt sure they had their number one suspect in the Greyhound Bus depot break-in.

Invest in Palm Springs Youth Today

This piece is about young people. If you haven't had anything running around the house but a fence—or if you just don't care what becomes of the 'teen agers of today—you might as well pass up this editorial and read something else in the paper that interests you more.

If on the other hand you are interested in young people, let us tell you something about the youth problem in Palm Springs.

There simply isn't a place in the Village where the young folks can go for wholesome fun—to have a good time together. They cannot—and should not—gather in the night clubs. Certainly no one wants them walking the streets. It shouldn't be necessary for us to go into the juvenile delinquency problem here. Suffice to say that Palm Springs is no different than any other city, town or village in that respect.

Isn't it enough to say that we need a Youth Center—need most of all to complete the one already started? You are being asked these days to contribute to many worthy causes. Just don't forget to heed the call of youth. It is vital, human, urgent.

The time is short. You should act today.

Don't pass up this opportunity to make an investment in future America that will pay big dividends. Remember this when you pass a stand where the shares in the Youth Center are being sold today.

Republican Leaders Entertained Here

Prominent Village Republicans attended a reception at the Palm Springs Tennis Club Wednesday evening, honoring two high officials of the National Republican committee, and their wives.

Honored was Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican National committee and his wife and William Murphy, in charge of publicity for the same organization, and Mrs. Murphy. Both couples are staying at the Desert Inn for the next ten days.

Among those present at the reception was James S. Kemper, treasurer of the Republican National committee. The party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Newcomer and former Lieutenant-Governor Raymond Haight and Mrs. Haight.

THE VISIT of Mr. and Mrs. Reece and the Murphys is in the nature of a rest from party political work and their plans while here include nothing but a lot of golf and relaxation. Kemper, a home owner here, is presently conducting a meeting of executive of the insurance company he heads.

Next Monday, Earl Coffman and George Roberson will co-host a picnic for the visiting Republicans somewhere out on the desert. At least forty persons will be present for this occasion.

ON MARCH 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett will hold a reception honoring both the Reeces and the Murphys. Village Republicans will be invited to this affair too.

Neither Reece, Kemper, or Murphy would talk politics at the Tennis Club Wednesday evening. All declared that they wished to

April 1 Date For New Levy If Adopted

City's Measure Follows Lines of State Sales Tax

City council in special session next Tuesday afternoon will adopt or reject an ordinance establishing a one-cent sales tax for Palm Springs. The measure was introduced by Councilman Armand Turonnet, chairman of city finance committee, at Wednesday's session of the board.

If adopted, it will go into effect on April 1.

THE SPECIAL MEETING was called by Mayor C. A. Hyde to give the city more time to set up the machinery for the collection of the new tax. The next regular meeting of the council is not until March 5.

The city's measure is patterned along the lines of the state measure, the tax being applied on the same items as under that law.

IT IS THE AIM of the city, City Manager William E. Alworth recently said, to simplify the measure so that business men and others who have to collect the tax will have the least possible detail work to do. The same program of simplification applies to clerical work at the city hall.

A $1 fee for sales tax permits is provided as are penalties ranging up to $300 fines or jail terms, for violation of the act.

33 L. A. Policemen Here on New Bikes

For the second time in two seasons, Los Angeles traffic officers mounted on new motorcycles chose an itinerary that would take them through the Village on a "shake-down" test of their new "bikes".

Wednesday, 33 of these police stopped for awhile in Palm Springs enroute from Los Angeles to Indio and return. The trip this year has not been without accidents, according to Sergeant E. Goddard in charge of the cavalcade.

On Monday one of the riders wrecked his new motorcycle and is now in the hospital in Los Angeles. Wednesday another officer crashed his two-wheeled vehicle into a construction sign voluntarily rather than collide with another motorcycle in the group. He sustained minor injuries but wrecked his motor-bike.

Board Postpones Decision on More Liquor Permits

Final decision in granting additional liquor licenses in Palm Springs was deferred by Chairman William G. Bonelli, of the State Board of Equalization at a meeting held in Sacramento yesterday. This action followed the request of City Attorney Roy Colgate who opposed granting of more liquor permits in the Village. Final decision will be made, Bonelli said, after he personally makes a trip to Palm Springs and investigates the liquor situation here.

Their son John, played a prominent part in the production.

The students were forceful in the presentation of their views and feelings on this vital question.

Ralph Woodward, Paula Hayward, and Jack Reis were runners up in the competition and will represent the school at the community contest to be held at the Lions Club on Thursday, February 20.

Annual Fashion Show Presented by Girls' League

The annual Girls' League Fashion show was given on the morning of Thursday, February 13, in the weekly assembly and at the Woman's Club in the afternoon for parents and friends.

The clothes, modeled by students, were loaned by dress shops of the Village.

Bathing suits, play clothes, sport outfits, date dresses, suits, and formals were shown to give a sample of all types of clothes that the average P.S.H.S. co-ed will be wanting this spring and summer.

THIS SEASON'S fashions showed that material restrictions are off now. Longer skirts, billowy sleeves, and more three-quarter length sleeves were in evidence.

The newest style bathing suits seems to be the two-piece V-strap suits. Lastex is again back. Ella Ruth Brown modeled a one-piece white lastex with black lace lastex sides that is definitely flattering to the figure.

Audrey Bentsen looked summery in a yellow sun dress with a red print. A little ballerina jacket added to it.

Play clothes, shorts, pedal pushers, and play suits are as popular as ever.

CASUAL COTTON dresses for afternoon and summer evening wear were predominate. A pale green chambray with white yoke, collar and cuffs was shown by Sally Robinson. She easily "dressed up" the little cotton with white "shorty" gloves.

The show was given at the Woman's Club through the generosity of the members who donated its use. A tea followed the program. Mrs. E. E. Oertel and Mrs. Fae Robinson presided over the tea table.

The fashion show was the product of much work on the part of Mrs. Moya Henderson, advisor, by the girls of the school and the following Village shops: Roma's, Knobby Knit, Tailored Lady, Fulton's, Bullock's, Desmond's, Fashion Mart, The Peasant Shop, Stegman's Spauldings, Lanz, Plaza Yarn Shop, Dorothy Gray's and The Village Toggery.

Indians Win Two,
Drop One Game at Riverside Tourney

On the court at Riverside Junior college last Friday night, the Palm Spring Indians entered a non-league tournament with five other top school cagers in the Riverside county league.

The first game was at 7:00 and was played between Palm Springs and Beaumont. The game started quickly, with Palm Springs drawing first blood. Jay Holderman, center, looked bright in this game and by the half he had piled up 11 points and his team mates an additional 8. Beaumont would sink only 2 baskets and three free shots to make the score in the half 19-7, Indians' favor. Beaumont cagers started their parade in the second period to the basket with Beaumont forwards, Balic and King, both making points apiece. For Palm Springs, Holderman made an additional 8 points and his team mates 6 more. Beaumont's recovery came too late and the Indians won 33-31.

EARLY SATURDAY night the Indians met Hemet, the champs of the Riverside league.

The Hemet cagers started a fast game and threw the Indians on the defensive. It appeared that Hemet was walking over Palm Springs as the first half ended 18-9 in Hemet's favor. The second half was off to a slow start but as time wore on Palm Springs started to click. Don Williams made 7 points which made him high point man. Lopez also made 4 points. But this comeback didn't have enough drive and fell short. The final tally was 36-21 in Hemet's favor.

Later the Indians met with the Sherman Braves for the third time. This was a play-off for con-

Christian Science
Sunday Theme 'Mind'
The Golden Text of the Sunday
Lesson—Sermon on "Mind" in all branches of The Mother Church.
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Romans, and reads, "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!"
In a Bible selection from Matthew, Jesus says, "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow;
they toil not, neither do they spin;
And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."
Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? . . . for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."
Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Be firm in your understanding that the divine Mind governs, and that in Science man reflects God's government." Again she says, "Sickness, sin, and death must at length yield before the divine rights of intelligence, and then the power of Mind over the entire functions and organs of the human system will be acknowledged."

Community Church Young People at Bible Conference

Four car loads of young people of the Community church returned Sunday evening from Forest Home where they spent a weekend outing and attended a Bible conference.
They went up on Friday after school and spent the weekend in the mountains, enjoying the canyon sports and attending the conference. Mrs. James Blackstone was in charge.
Tomorrow Holly Lash Visel, director of music at the church takes her entire junior choir group, consisting of the Blue Nightingales and Junior Singers for a days outing in the hills.
Cars for the trip have been provided by persons interested in the work of the group.

Rev. Helms To Preach March 2 at Local Church

The Rev. Elmer E. Helms will deliver the sermon at the Community church on Sunday, March 2, Dr. J. R. Macartney, pastor, table pulpits in the nation. Under his leadership the million-dollar First Methodist church of Los Angeles was erected. During his 12 years there, the membership grew to 6,000, making it the largest Methodist church in the United States.

He has received degrees from 10 universities in the nation.

"Mastership" Title of Film Sunday Evening

The moving picture next Sunday night at the Community church will be "Mastership," Dr.
J. R. Macartney, pastor, said today.
Prior to the evening service, the two Christian Endeavor societies of the church will meet at 6:30 o'clock.

Gazoozit

By LOLO

A haggard, haggish hag sat happily in a haft eating haddock and haggis, "What ho," hissed she haughtily, "Gazoozit, that hideous hay stack of heckling happenings is here again." And so be it.
Tony Jupe, that seventeen-year-old wonder boy of Palm Springs High School, would like to know what in the world the attraction of L. T. can be. May be someone ought to take him off and tell him about the birds and the bees. And not only that but Tony hasn't ever been out with a girl. Something really ought to be done about this. Bring out the old Dutch Cleanser gals and shine up the bear traps. (Tony is going to love this.)

SPEAKING of traps a certain mellow fellow is brought to my mind, namely, Don Whitehead.
He has a new name now. Just call him Ruth, short for ruthless (the merciless beast).

Virginia Miller isn't the trap type. She is the sponsor of a new youth organization which we are all going to love. Being the top rung on the ladder (and stepped on just as much) she is going to try to secure a badge of honor from "Ruth." You'll love the badge too.

While still on the subject of badges and traps now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country. Landry and Slocum have dropped the badge of steady-ship and Slocum, no doubt is sharpening the prongs of her own personal bear trap. (Assuming bear traps have prongs.) That's how one rumor has it but according to another they didn't drop the ball and chain at all.
Landry must have pulled a quick disappearance act though because we've seen nothing of him for the last week. Here today, gone tomorrow. What drama!

FRIDAY NIGHT some of the gals went with the guys to the tournament game. There were Candi and Ed, Sally and Don, Lopez and Arlene, Slocum and Jonsey, Dora and Whitehead, and some others. Saturday Candi went to the tournament game with Jack Wiengartner. She said she saw so many games that she almost knows the rules of football. She must have been rather disheartened when we told her that it was basketball, not football, she was watching. How quaint!

There was a fine little rendezvous Friday night around a desert camp fire. The place wasn't the Pit or Snob Hill, but an equally mellow spot, the Butte.
There was Ella Ruth Brown, Charlotte McKnight, Francine and Lefty, Sandy and Chuck Stone, Virginia Miller and Miley, Pat Ball, Jean Ruppert, Bert Tatum, Beth Summerly, Audrey Bolten, and Buddy D., Jackie Aitkin and Jimmy, and others.
Bert bought loads of wieners and they looked so good that Beth was almost tempted to leave her lofty perch and eat one. Everyone had a good time except Jo-Ann, who looked like she had lost her last false tooth. Jean and Pat got a little excited about the whole thing. Really Jean, no one was trying to murder you. How people do jump to conclusions.

You never catch me doing things like that, do you?

Something tells me someone is pulling my leg about this new youth movement. Before long the sponsor hopes to have every student in school simply repelled with the mere mention of dates.
(three big booming dismal chords

Sandy and Chuck get along better every day. It makes us so proud we could just almost spit bee bees.

ROBERT HIGGINS had an inspiration for a practical joke and wrote, "Just Married", on the back of K.K.'s car." And did dear little K.K. ever get razed. But who can tell; it might happen a few years from now, huh Coni?
Barbara Beeton seems to have a bear trap which is in pretty good condition. Anyhow, it works. And who is the victim?

It's one of those two Hollywood fellas you've seen zooming all over the booming metropolis. It might grow into the greatest romance of all time.
Jill Norris says she really cut a rug over the weekend. Wonder just exactly what kind of scissors she used for the job.

Adele Woods gave a fine formal Valentine Dance and party at the Woman's Club. It was the biggest event of the weekend.

NOT MUCH ELSE was doing Saturday night, however, we did spot Slocum and Gillar, Klug and Burket, and a couple of others having a cozy little party all their own.

Who should the cat drag in over the weekend and deposit on the saint's (Chuck's) doorstep but dear old Mort Algase. He stayed only a few days to renew old friendships. He dropped in the Escadrille long enough to find the lost chord on the piano and then left only to return once more and lose it again. I hope it didn't drive dear old Dick Henson half as crazy as it did someone else I know. Endeavoring to hide my hideous conceit I will not mention the name of this person.

Poor dear Lopez gets his feelings hurt so easily. If his name was Touchfarber it would be awfully easy to call him touchy. No wonder Arlene is so sweet. To avoid the shock of a thunderous "boo hoo" she has to tread on kid gloves, which is rather difficult for a human being. (If I wanted to be nasty I would say it was easy for her.)

LOTS OF THE C. E. KIDS spent the weekend or at least part of it at Forest Home. Among the group were Nancy and Jim, Sally and Don, Billy Sandefer, Mable and Brush, Earl and Mary Katherine, Hazel Veith and others.

Friday and Sunday night Jeanette and Johnny were out together again. They seem to be getting along fine.

Two hours under questioning, the pint-sized burglar confessed that he had kept the police baffled with seven other burglaries, the first one, when he said he entered the Palm Springs Drug and Import company April 12 and rifled a cigar box of eight dollars and walked away with a box of juicy-fruit chewing gum. In succession, he is said by Phillips and Houghton to have confessed entering the drug store October 5, 1946; the Palm Springs Department store three times subsequently, taking what small change he could find, two shirts and a fishing reel. He then told the authorities that he broke into the club house on the O'Donnell Golf course January 10, walking away with a box of golf balls.

IN ADDITION to his confession of having burglarized the bus depot, he surprised the investigating officers in admitting that during the same night he had entered two hotel apartments in a well known downtown hostelry

All O.K. to Date Legion Reports

Owen B. Coffman post of American Legion Tuesday night heard reports on the Sunny Dunes Development company's housing problem for veterans and agreed that no irregularities had been found to date. Investigations were still continuing, however, Commander G. K. Sanborn said.

Investigation of all veterans' housing projects here were asked in a resolution adopted by the post at a meeting recently.

occupied by winter guests. From these rooms he took a pink sweater and a small overnight bag.

The "pint-sized" burglar is known to be living with his father on the reservation, and that his mother has been dead for several years. His only surviving parent works as a gardener in the Village and hails originally from Oklahoma. Both the father and son have lived here for two years.

by Cliff Camble and Joseph Butler.

At 3 p. m., the big array of gifts will be given away by the American Legion. Benefitting from this part of the program will be the World Wars Memorial Building which the Legion is seeking to build in Palm Springs as a center for the nearly 500 veterans and as a civic auditorium capable of seating between 600 and 800 persons.

THE BUILDING, to be erected on a site which the Legion owns on Belardo Road back of the fire department, has been found to be badly needed as a meeting place for large groups, as a location for shows and expositions, and as a site for community dances, according to Commander G. K. Sanborn of the Owen Coffman Post of the Legion.

Special admission prices are in effect at the Field Club for students, and children under 12 are admitted free.

- 100,000-acre hinterland, rich with hidden retreats for guests to play and picnic.

An 8-month season due to gentle breezes from the San Geronio Pass. The spot in the valley where the sun shines when it rains elsewhere and a superior climate generally to all other recreation areas of the upper valley.
- Detachment, peace and a sense of spaciousness. Three miles off the truck boulevards, at the end of the trail. The ideal setting for the ultra-distinctive caravansary and estate residence which no superlatives of language can adequately picture.
- Easy commuting distance over a curveless and uncongested paved road to the shops, theatres, cafes and night life of Palm Springs, yet a short ride after dinner to the heavenly solitude of peace without isolation, in virgin desert, unspoiled by the inroads of man.
- A sanctuary of peace without isolation where the tired easterner may bask in perpetual sunshine free of urban tempo mothers regain the physical energy essential to a happy family life, and children become the healthy young animals nature intended—all without undue isolation and with all the modern utilities of living.

Protection Against Encroachments

Hidden Springs Ranch, in the midst of which lies the advertised oasis-hotel site, is a distinctive residential development of strictly gentlemen's estate sites with nothing in common with the ordinary subdivisions. It is highly restricted on external architecture and prospective purchasers carefully investigated before conveyance.

The developer is the owner and was the founder and original owner of the famous Smoke Tree Ranch club and residential colony at Palm Springs. The same high standards and social foundation is employed in the development of the Hidden Springs Ranch estates colony. There are no "lots," no shops, motels, or business sections to despoil the desert and depreciate either residence values or the central developments of hotel or de luxe guest ranch. A small and intimate club on a separate site will be developed and maintained for the owners, independent of the hotel.

The asset of encircling highly restricted residence property, eliminating piracy and undesirable depreciative business, is priceless to a large hotel investment.

Natural Gas

Texas natural gas from the California Texas high pressure "Big Inch" main now actually under construction within 10 miles of this property, will be available in 1947-48 winter. The property and owners hold a right-of-way agreement and a firm commitment by the Southern California Gas Company and the Southern Counties Gas Company of California, dated January 6, 1947, to supply the Hidden Springs Ranch development and hotel under the Railroad Commission regulations with natural gas.

The inestimable value of natural gas for a large hotel kitchen and heating swimming pool water cannot be over estimated. Outside the limited area of Palm Springs city no other hotel site can supply such a vital service and none in the whole Coachella Valley with such a rare combination of accessibility and assets of nature. It is affirmed that Hidden Springs Ranch stands unique between Texas and Los Angeles with this invaluable asset to the property.

Water, Water—Lots of Water

Appurtenant to this hotel site is a fully determined prior right to 50 per cent of the all year flowing mineral stream of Thousand Palms Canyon. The pipe line temporarily is disrupted and the stream flowing free on the desert for two miles. This water has medicinal values and spa potentials, is the same mineral analysis as the famed Desert Hot Springs bathing water with radio active qualities. It arises out of seven springs and undiminished in summer.

Exploited properly for flowing mineral swimming pool eliminating excessive chlorine, or developed into distinctive spa facilities in connection with ultra fashionable hotel the water has unlimited possibilities. Surplus water from a flowing pool might well be employed to cheaply irrigate a polo field and golf putting greens or date culture and ornamental irrigation. Domestic water is supplied by a deep well with sufficient water for over 3000 people, modern, fully automatic equipment and water system and mutual water corporation.

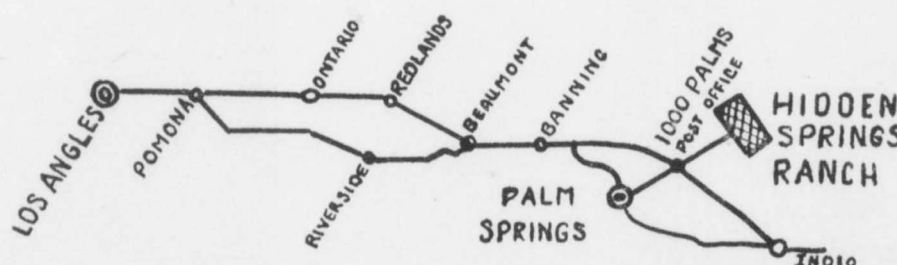

All-American low cost fresh water pumped from wells versus Colorado mineral water, upon completion of that project, now rapidly approaching final service, will in the near future be supplied to the lands in this site and estates. Reclamation Bureau plans have eliminated the unsightly canal through this property substituting fresh well pumped water from wells drilled in the western ten miles of the canal district. This low cost fresh irrigation water is a third and important source of water to this unequalled site.

No known potential hotel site in this entire valley and possessing such comparable assets of use value, is able to supply such varied and abundant water.

$40,000 OF TREES

Four hundred enormous tamarack shade trees over 30 years old and many date palms under which children may play and to greet the eastern eye with familiar green verdure. The greatest horticultural pageantry on the American deserts at the end of the trail where civilization ends and the mysterious desert begins.

Estate Owners in the Hidden Springs Ranch know of this advertisement and the purposes thereof. The Estate development is not for sale. This offer is a part of a planned program delayed by completion of the paved road to Palm Springs.

HIDDEN SPRINGS RANCH

THOUSAND PALMS, CALIFORNIA

Never again in the history of this unparalleled desert development within the shadow of a world famous desert resort will any such rare combination of incomparable environment and nature's gifts for the happiness of man, be available on this rapidly vanishing desert—this, the last of all in the valley of perpetual sun.

Right reserved to withdraw this offer at any time, raise price, alter terms, or refuse conveyance to any individual or group, without notice.

Palm House to be Scene of Benefit Dance Feb. 25

The Palm House next Tuesday afternoon will be the scene of an informal dinner party hosted by the Jewish Women's Group as a benefit for Youth Aliyah. Originally it was planned to have the affair at the officer's club at the airfield but uncertainties in securing the place for the event cause those in charge of arrangements to transfer the benefit dinner-dance to the Palm House.

Tickets can be obtained at a cost of $5 by telephoning 2239. Many surprises are promised for those attending to make the evening highly entertaining.

grip of Mr. Wurlitzer on the hands of Luper quieted him.

"DON'T WORRY," Luper said, he assured Mr. Wurlitzer "you can let loose of me, I'll wait for the cops." While the dog and his master stood guard, Mrs. Wurlitzer telephoned the police and in a matter of two or three minutes Officers Charley Murray and John Herrera arrived and took Luper into custody.

At the police station, the youth implicated as his accomplice Robert Strong, and said that Louis van Dolzer was somewhere in the neighborhood but was unaware that his two companions were committing burglary.

August Kettmann, chief of police, yesterday said that Luper and Strong confessed to a charge of burglary and that all three of the men would be turned over to army authorities instead of being prosecuted in civilian courts.

Chamber Elects
New Directors
February 17

There was active participation by the forty odd members of the chamber of commerce at their election of directors on Monday night, February 17, each of the seven directors received from 34 to 45 votes apiece showing the full approval of the membership.

Mrs. Ella Dorn, only woman director for the past two years, was elected again with a wide margin as was Professor James Kyle and Fire Commissioner Emil Greener.

FOUR NEW directors were elected to the board after members listened to speeches by those nominating their candidates.

Mr. Leslie Kelley, owner of the Kelley Cottages on Broadway, was elected a director. He was formerly owner of a business college in the East. He and his wife are popular members of the De Luxe Trailer Court where they have lived since coming here.

MR. L. C. LEWIS, former insurance executive from Portland, Oregon, who has shown great interest in the chamber of commerce meetings and in all other civic activities since coming here two years ago, was also elected. He has just completed a home on "F" and Van Fleet streets.

Mr. Laurence Weingartner, also elected, is volunteer fireman and manufacturer of cement bricks, and has been in the town for over a year and during that time has shown great interest in civic affairs. He and his wife also live at the De Luxe Trailer Court.

THE SURPRISE election was that of Mr. Curtis Ring, owner of a shop of Indian curios at Palm Village. He has recently built a home at "C" and Glenn streets where he lives with his wife and small child. In speaking for this nominee Ben Scott said that he had known him over the past few years and that he was everything that was needed to put new blood and young ideas into the directorship.

Mrs. Wolseth also stated that he had filled out the most carefully considered survey she had received, and while Mr. Ring had become a member of the chamber of commerce for the first time that evening he was elected by 34 votes. A former credit manager for Bullock's he has lived in various parts of the desert for the past few years.

FRANK RUSSELL asked the newly appointed directors to stand in front of the house and told them their duties. They are to attend a directors' luncheon each Saturday before the open meeting and to attend the meeting held the first Tuesday of each month at the Town Hall. They agreed to do this.

Professor James Kyle presented a new numbering system which follows a plan proposed by A. C. Fulmer and modified by the County Planning Commission, whereby every house in the county will have a number.

The professor is spending many hours with a large map working these numbers out and Cathedral City will have the honor of being the first district to put the numbering system into use. They will be distributed at cost through the chamber of commerce. It is remembered that one of Professor Kyle's first contributions to the community was in obtaining and putting up street signs here.

Favorable Vote
Asked on School
Bond Issues

Speaking before the Cathedral City chamber of commerce Monday night, Miss K. Finchey, superintendent of the Desert School District, and Dr. E. E. Oertel, principal of the high school, asked that the bond issue for both school districts be passed. They showed that the need was great and that over the next five years the population would double if not triple.

They also proved by figures that though a million dollars is involved the residents would still pay less taxes than they have been paying for school upkeep.

County-Wide Flood Control Program Begun

"Sez I"

By MARY WOLSETH

"We are of the opinion that serious study and consideration should be given to the possibility of incorporating Cathedral City as a sixth class municipality. It is felt that this is the only way the property owners can by law and ordinance properly control the situation. Naturally an increase in the taxes of all of the property owners will occur, but in the long run, we feel that it would be for the benefit of all to take this step," writes James W. Bibb, city investigator, working out of the office of the city prosecuting attorney of Long Beach, and writing in answer to, and accompanied by, a survey mailed to him by a neighbor.

"WE FEEL that some movement should be started to try if possible, to regulate the parking on the highway and to slow down the speed through the city to approximately 25 miles per hour. We have observed trucks and trailers, busses and passenger cars speed through the city at 60 miles per hour and we feel that this is extremely dangerous to the citizens and guests of Cathedral City.

"We shall be glad to cooperate with the Civic Club in its endeavor to carry out this program. We are conferring with some of our friends regarding the questions you ask in the forms we received and shall be glad to do our part financially and otherwise to further this program. Our two places in Cathedral City are both rented at the present time, so we do not have an opportunity to meet with the good people as often as we would like. We have a very warm feeling in our hearts for them and feel if we all pull together we can accomplish our aims."

THIS ANSWER and others similar show an overwhelming desire on the part of the property owners to do something now to control their town. The survey will give us statistics with which to work and letters like this give us stimulation on which to carry on, sez I.

THE TOWN HALL had its floors resurfaced this week and new chairs are being purchased in time for the directors' luncheon March 1st when the board will hold its election of officers.

MR. GUSTAV SCHAUNIK, long time resident of the De Luxe Trailer Court, was taken to the Palm Springs Community hospital Tuesday morning, after a sudden heart attack. From last reports he is better. An oxygen tent was necessary.

SOMETHING NEW—The Village Market has put on new touch on the self-service idea. In its meat department are modern refrigerated cases, no waiting. All cuts wrapped in cellophane with prices and weight plainly marked. You help yourself, pay the cashier—and off to home. (Desert Camera Shop photo.)

Cathedral City Personals

Social dancing and etiquette are part of the background of well adjusted young people, girls of Scout Troop 8, members of the Nellie Coffman junior high school said when they invited their boy friends to their first party last week. Refreshments were served by the mothers who said these activities will be transferred to the Girl Scout house as soon as it is built.

Drapes and furnishings have been promised by many persons in the community, on the recently circulated survey. These people are being seen by Mrs. Mary Dawson, president of the school club.

MRS. BETTY OWEN went to Los Angeles last week and was taken suddenly ill. She was rushed to the hospital where an emergency appendectomy was performed. She is doing well, and will be back to work in the Bank of America before long.

THE AMHOY DATE SHOP has changed its face and widened its contours. The Raters say they will have tables and booths before long and might even throw a dance to smooth the bumps in the cement floor opening night.

MR. HARVEY PETERSON'S youngest brother died suddenly last week and was buried in Forest Lawn cemetery Saturday. The entire Peterson family attended the funeral.

MRS. MYRTLE CAMP, mother of Bob, has been visiting here for the past week in order to be with Toni on her sixth birthday.

THE BUD KELLYS, Ray Potters and Walt Colglaziers spent last week-end on a fishing trip to Colorado River. The fish weren't biting too well but they had a good time. Mr. Elmer Colglazier put his mother on the train for Kansas this week. She has been with him since September.

MR. AND MRS. J. G. Brown have been in Cathedral from Gabbs, Nevada, and are looking after their property on Second street.

MR. AND MRS. Arthur Ainsworth of Lyons, Kans., and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shillett of Colton spent several days this week with Mrs. Shillett's son, Harold Crawford.

THE INDIO COUNTY FAIR will exhibit some of Mrs. Blanche Mamer's knitted baby clothes at their handicraft booth.

JACK BISPLINGHOFF and wife, of the Totem Pole Cafe, wish to thank Cathedralites for their warm friendly gestures in welcoming them to the community. They have never been in such a nice little community they say. An Italian luncheon will be served on Friday to the block hostesses in the patio so that the ladies may sample the cuisine and see the facilities of the cafe for future club events.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph Cronise, co-owners of the station KWIL and daily newspaper of Albany, Ore., were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Waller last week. Visiting at the same time were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Grey, also from Albany.

Tuesdays at 10:00 a.m., there will be Holy Communion and Meditations on Responsibility. "To Our Higher Selves," will be the subject on February 25.

Thursday at 3:00 p.m., litany and addresses in five different homes are scheduled. The general subject: "The Church Serves Mankind."

This week, on February 27, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lapp, Rock Point, the Rev. Tax Notes

By EDWARD J. NELISSEN

WHAT CONSTITUTES INCOME?

The first items to be reported on the individual income tax return are the salaries, bonuses, commissions and other compensation received for services rendered during 1946.

For most taxpayers this is a simple procedure since the amount to be reported will be the amount shown on the "W-2." However, if the employee travels in the course of his employment and the employer reimburses him separately for the traveling expenses, the employee must add the amounts so reimbursed to the compensation shown on the "W-2." If such reimbursements amounted to more than $500.00 during the year the employer will have given him a form "1099" showing the amount reimbursed. The amount actually expended is then deducted from the total received. The amount expended and the amount reimbursed may not always be identical since for instance, your employer may reimburse you on a mileage basis for your car expenses and you may choose to deduct the cost of repairs, gas, oil and depreciation actually incurred. Remember that the relationship of "employer-employee" exists even if you own all of the stock of a small corporation and you are an officer of this corporation.

THE REIMBURSED expenses are the only expenses which can be deducted from compensation for services. It is important, however, to take this deduction directly off the income since by so doing you can still claim the $500 standard deduction on the long-form or automatically be entitled to the 10% deduction on the short-form.

When services are paid for in property in lieu of cash, the fair market value at the time of receipt should be included in gross income. Thus, board and lodging furnished in addition to wages constitute income unless furnished for the convenience of the employer. Compensation paid for in stock or notes constitute income at the fair market value of the stock or notes.

(Next Friday: Income from dividends, interest, pensions and annuities.)

Air Stories To Go Out on Air

There's a new kind of radio program going on the air next Saturday evening and every Saturday evening thereafter, according to announcement today.

Bill Orwin, manager of the Western Air Lines here, is going to put on a program every Saturday evening, starting this week, from 6:30 to 6:45 o'clock. Naturally, it will be based on aviation and air travel. Different Villagers and winter residents will be interviewed on these programs.

First Villager to be interviewed by Orwin will be Mary Nelson, operator of the local airport, on her plans for developments here.

Letters to the Editor

TIME TO GET BUSY—

Banning, California
Feb. 11, 1947

Editor Desert Sun:

Am enclosing an article published in the February issue of Desert Spotlight magazine.

It seems to me that Palm Springs is overlooking the tremendous advertising value of this most beautiful of all natural landmarks.

Surely it is more beautiful and inspirational than the famous "Arrowhead" that San Bernardino so carefully preserves.

If nothing is done to remove the encroaching brush the "Angel" will soon be lost for all time.

Why not start a campaign to restore and preserve this loveliness?

CECILE J. RANSOME

THE ARTICLE, entitled "Our Lady of the Wasteland," follows: California has many strange and beautiful landmarks that are well known. Yet the strangest and loveliest of them all, a natural rock formation on the eastern slope of San Jacinto mountain is comparatively unknown. Ask almost any desert traveler if he has seen "The Angel of San Jacinto" and he will give you a blank stare.

Yet that lovely and elusive lady is there; wide wings outspread, high on the crest of a foothill, she watches over miles and miles of wind-scarred desert shrubs desperately striving for life among the restless dunes.

MY FIRST GLIMPSE of this strange and perfect masterpiece of Nature's art was a never to be forgotten experience. I left Imperial at two o'clock one morning. As I drove through Indio a tired old moon was sinking to rest behind the black and jagged peaks on the western horizon. I neared Garnet, on highway 99, just as the first rays of dawn made flaming banners of the clouds above the nearby peaks.

Intrigued by the beauty of the scene I stopped and watched while San Jacinto peak became tinged with amethyst and rose. Every canyon was a mysterious purple river and the foothills were cobalt and indigo blue.

THEN I SAW THE ANGEL! At first I thought it a mirage. An angel, the symbol of eternal life, poised on the crest of a hill above the wasteland? Yet there it was, snow white robe and gleaming wings flashing in the early light. While I stared in amazement the sun rose above the horizon and the gleaming white angel slowly merged with the blue of the mountain. As the day advanced the angel became a dull gray and only careful scrutiny revealed the lovely outlines.

THE ORIGIN of the angel is a controversial subject. One story says an earthquake, in 1918, caused a rock slide. When the dust and debris had settled the angel appeared above the slide. Mr. Donaldson, former owner of Donaldson's Studio, has another version. He says that when the flood of January, 1916, isolated Beaumont and Banning a Southern Pacific railroad employee brought a roll of film to the studio. "Be very careful in developing that film, there's an angel in it," he said. The man returned for prints and asked if the angel was visible. Mr. Donaldson inspected the prints and the angel was there, plainly outlined against the breast of the mountain.

MR. DONALDSON bought the film and sold many pictures of the angel. "The pictures sold from San Diego to Santa Barbara," is the way he tells of the reception of the beautiful pictures.

While the origin of the angel may be a controversial subject no one will deny that she is a lovely and awe inspiring sight, and one that should be better known. From the sand hills below Garnet to the heights of Desert Hot Springs the desert traveler may see this wonderful angel poised on the mountain's breast.

Old timers in the Pass area regret that the brush is beginning to obscure the angel. One large shrub is growing out of the right wing, other brush is creeping closer and closer. It seems that some effort should be made to clear away the encroaching brush and thus preserve "The Angel" for all time.

IF YOU WOULD see "The Angel" in all her glory you must drive out near Garnet some day when the sun is just rising above the horizon. In the winter months the sun is too far south to show the angel until after nine o'clock. Even then the cliffs cast a shadow on the right wing. But go in summer, when the sun is far to the north, then you will certainly see the formation that I shall always call "Our Lady of the Wasteland."

Sun Re-Unites Two Lost Pups and Their Owner

The Desert Sun has united a separated family, according to belated word received this week.

A few weeks ago The Sun printed a story that Edward Hawkins, while driving down a lonely stretch of mountain road, saw two Scotties by the roadside. As it was miles from the nearest habitation, he picked them up and brought them into Dr. O. B. McRory's canine hotel here.

A winter visitor here by the name of Whittier (Dr. McRory didn't get the first name) saw the item in The Sun and came down to claim his two Scotties.

He said they got out of his car while he stopped and frisked up the hillside. After waiting and whistling in vain for some time, he drove on.

Now, Whittier (not the poet) and his two Scotties are together again.

FAIR WARNING

For some years now, a matron we know has patronized a dress-making shop on the West Side run by an imperious and capable Spanish lady. Our friend had an uneasy moment or two last Friday when she received from this place of business a chillingly laconic announcement: "Persons leaving a coat or dress for more than thirty days will be sent to Europe."—The New Yorker.

Where Cissy Spent Her Honeymoon

Most of the young newlyweds in our town spend their honeymoon at Roundstone Lake or Jackson Falls; why the Martins even went as far as New York City.

But when Cissy Copper married the young Carter boy, they allowed as how they were going to spend their honeymoon right here.

"There's no place better than our town," Cissy says. "And I'd like to start married life at home, with things Bud and I are used to."

Makes sense, come to think of it. Folks naturally left them alone; and except for occasional visits to the Garden Tavern for a glass of beer, they stayed at home, getting used to married bliss.

My missus prefers traveling—and that's her right. But from where I sit, there's no place better for a honeymoon—or second honeymoon—than right at home—with your own possessions, good home cooking, and a friendly glass of beer or two—with the best companion in the world.

Thousand Palms Will Have Modern Motel, New Stores

By CARLOS O'DUAL

The romance of the cross roads about to be enacted again in California at the hamlet of Thousand Palms, six miles east of Ramon Springs. It's the old story in this land of incredible in which a sleepy cross roads on the map with a couple of oil stations, not dog stand and gypsy camps suddenly is catapulted into the path of progress, and events move fast.

Thousand Palms is to have something more than a mere face lifting. It will soon have a subdivided business section. The reason for all this burst of activity in the near future lies primarily in the new paved road which runs straight as an arrow out of Palm Springs and is the logical route from crowded Palm Springs to Arizona and the east coast. The new paved road, without dangerous curves, will relieve the congestion hitherto thrown on the Cathedral City route to Indio.

PRIME MOVER in the sudden awakening of Thousand Palms is Karl Thompson, former oil and real estate operator of Texas and now a large real estate owner and operator in Hollywood. Last summer, Mr. Thompson purchased the 27 acres on which is located the Texaco oil station and auto camps. Mr. Thompson has plans drawn and will commence this summer to develop a business section after razing the existing structures. He plans to construct a new paved road between Highway 99 and Ramon road just east of the corner of Thousand Palms, and lay out a number of lots for shops, stores and business concerns. On a portion of the property a modern super-motel will be built of permanent construction and the gas station modernized.

The motel will be the last word in modern accommodations, air-conditioned and eliminating objectionable features common to early type motels. Said Mr. Thompson recently, in discussing his plans of development, "This prospective townsite is on a transcontinental route where there is an under-supply of adequate motel accommodations. It is also now within ten minutes of Palm Springs where accommodations of any kind are at a premium, at least in winter months. I have felt for some years that the motel idea was fundamentally right but the executions faulty."

THERE IS NO REASON why motel accommodations should not equal first class hotels. People

Latest in Crime Prevention Taught at FBI School Here

Palm Springs' police officers have been going to school all this week and not one is reported to have played "hokey."

The course of study which started last Monday, February 17, will continue until February 26, is being conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and with the exception of three four-hour lectures, all of the classes saw special agents of the FBI in charge.

ON MONDAY R. R. Hodkinson, chief of police of Newport Beach, discussed on public relations, and on Tuesday, Robert Daugherty, deputy district attorney for Riverside county, lectured on the laws of arrest. Sergeant Robert Karrow, San Diego police department, headed a class in prowling and "beat"-duty observation.

All of the classes already held, took place in the upper room of the fire hall as will those yet to be conducted on February 24 and 25. Special Agent Harold P. Higgins and Franklin E. Wright held classes today at 2 p. m. and 7 p. m. respectively dealing with the subject of practical investigation of burglary. The following day Wright also taught the FBI way of report-writing.

TUESDAY, Special Agent Joe W. Rice conducted a class in firearms and Wednesday, Special Agent Higgins will hold a similar class.

Members of the local force carried school books to each lecture and took voluminous notes dealing with modern methods of crime prevention and detection.

who are travelling dislike to drive up to a conventional hotel, unload, park their car in a garage perhaps two or three blocks away and then have to run back to the car for some item the family may have overlooked. People on the road like to have the car close by and lose a minimum of time getting in and out. But travellers won't put up with the crude accommodations and lack of modern facilities which marked the early efforts in the motel field. Mr. Hull set a standard when he built Rancho Vegas and other just-out-of-the-town de luxe motels. I expect to erect a modern establishment at Thousand Palms and make a model business townsite out of that corner.

Mr. Thompson's record in realty operations and financial capacity should ensure a development which will transform the current unsightly entrance to a swank residential district lying to the east where Ramon Road terminates in the Hidden Springs Ranch exclusive residential development.

"Golden Rocket" to Link Village and East This Summer

The new Diesel-powered streamliner to be operated on a 39 3/4-hour schedule between Chicago and Los Angeles by the Southern Pacific and Rock Island railroads will be named the "Golden Rocket," officials of the two lines announced yesterday.

The name was chosen, it was explained, because of the popularity of the "Rocket" trains already operated by Rock Island in the Middle West and because it ties in with the Golden State route over which the two railroads operate between Los Angeles and Chicago, through El Paso, Tucson and Phoenix.

Described by its owners as the most beautiful and luxurious train ever built, the "Golden Rocket" will go into service this coming summer. Now under construction, it will be the first entirely new postwar train between Chicago and the resorts of Arizona and California. It will be operated tri-weekly on an extra fare basis.

Entirely custom-built, the "Golden Rocket" will consist of 11 cars, including day-nite chair cars, sleeping cars, dining car, observation lounge car and a so-called "fiesta car" that will provide coffee shop and bar service from daybreak to midnight. Exterior of the train will be red and silver. Interior color and design will simulate the character of the deserts, mountains, canyons and prairies of the route traveled.

IN THE "FIESTA CAR" will be a reproduction of an Old Mexico patio, even including a fountain with inset Mexican tile. Walls will give an adobe effect, decorated with colors of Mexican serapes and pottery, full-color photomurals, hand-carved mission style woodwork, red tile flooring.

In announcing the "Golden Rocket," officials of the Southern Pacific and Rock Island also said that new equipment, including day-nite chair cars, coffee shop-lounge, and observation lounge cars, are now being built for the "Golden State Limited," which operates daily between Los Angeles, Arizona, and Chicago at regular fare.

Kin of Village Residents Wins U. S. Navy Honor

Howard M. Tuttle of Cleveland, frequent visitor here, brother of Mrs. Edward M. Hawkins, 218 South Palm Canyon drive, and of H. B. Tuttle of the same address, former navy pilot, has been awarded permanent citations by the navy department, it was announced today.

Tuttle's citation, according to notices in Cleveland newspapers, was for action off Morotoi Island in September, 1944, when he scored 11 hits on a Japanese target while supporting amphibious landings on the island.

Letters to the Editor

STATE HEALTH LEGISLATION

Editor of The Desert Sun: The California Prepaid Health Insurance Act is the leading bill encouraged by Governor Warren's message to the Legislature. It is drawn to provide medical, hospital and laboratory services for a period not to exceed 100 days for a qualified employee and each of his dependents. Beginning January 1st, 1948, every employee would be compelled to contribute 1 per cent of all wages paid and each employee, through a payroll deduction, would also contribute 1 per cent of his wages into a health service fund in the State Treasury.

An employer could apply for the approval of an alternate plan of voluntary health insurance if the coverage were equal to that which would be furnished by the state.

This proposed health insurance plan is designed to be administered by a new California health service authority of ten members to be appointed by the Governor, and would provide benefits beginning July 1st, 1948, if it should become law in its present form. The bill known as A.B. 1500 can be obtained from the Legislative Bill Room, State Capitol, Sacramento.

A recent Act of Congress has appropriated $75,000,000 to be matched by state and local funds for the construction of new hospitals and the expansion of present hospital facilities. In order to qualify for California's $2,000,000 portion of these federal funds, I have introduced A.B. 1481 to be called the California Hospital Survey and Construction Act.

The total amount of money to be made available for hospital construction if this legislation is passed, would be $6,000,000—the state supplying $2,000,000, the federal government $2,000,000, and the local hospital agencies $2,000,000. The State Director of Public Health, with the assistance of an appointed advisory council, would approve applications for allocations of this fund based upon relative need, and compliance with minimum standards of service. County, city and district hospitals would be eligible. Only by constitutional amendment could the non-profit community hospital corporations apply for government assistance.

It is the opinion of many who have studied the lack of hospital facilities in many parts of the state that only through this type of aid can adequate hospitalization be placed near all California citizens.

Another bill on the subject of better health for California is A.B. 2223, the proposed public health assistance act, which is intended to be an appropriation of $3,000,000 to improve public health department service in our counties and cities.

It would not be compulsory for any local health department to change or increase its present activities. If, however, they desired to meet the minimum requirements set by the State Department of Public Health, their portion (determined by a population formula) would be available for increased financial support of the Department. If Riverside county departments qualified they could receive $48,000 from this new public health assistance fund.

In the rural areas of the state there are many communities and counties without the important public health services including immunization, quarantine, clinics for pre-natal care and nutrition, water and food service sanitation, and tuberculosis prevention. In many larger cities budget limitations have prevented the basic public health services. For sometime it has been considered a proper state government function to protect the health of all of our citizens and children through these efforts. Apparently uniform public health service can only be achieved by the encouragement of a state subsidy. This proposed legislation is drawn to accomplish that purpose.

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP L. BOYD

Future of Real Estate Bright, is Word

Realtors Gather
at Luncheon Here
To Hear Officials

Future of California real estate was painted in glowing colors for more than 150 Southern California realtors at a luncheon-meeting hosted by the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, Tuesday noon at the Palm Springs Tennis Club.

Composed in the majority in members of the 11th District of the California Real Estate Association, the meeting was opened by Miss Muriel E. Fulton, president of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, and then turned over to Mrs. Elienor H. Braniger who introduced the speakers among which were Hubert Scudder, state real estate commissioner, and newly elected president of the CREA, L. Louis Gairaud.

MISS FULTON'S opening remarks stressed that only by the fullest cooperation with state officers and among themselves, and by keeping fully informed as to the latest developments in real estate, 1947 would be a successful year.

Commissioner Scudder gave a comprehensive talk on the ethics of the real estate profession; the new legislation now pending which will enable his department to run more smoothly and stated the various steps brokers should take to protect themselves as well as their clients. He pointed out that properly functioning boards were best suited to settle all complaints locally and he urged the boards to take this responsibility.

PRESIDENT L. Louis Gairaud was then called upon to address the meeting and he sized up his view of things to come, by saying: "We are entering a new era in business. The war has been successfully concluded; peace almost reigns over the world; many controls affecting our business and our living have been relaxed; the future pattern of our business is now being shaped. "Prosperity seems inevitable for California. Population trends show tremendous increases in California during and since the war. Many commercial enterprises, factories of all kinds, are locating in our Golden State; the eyes of the world are upon us. It is freely predicted that we will have an abundance of the necessary materials for construction this year. The brightest future dawns for California. Prosperity faces us."

TURNING to specific phases of that future, Gairaud stressed Association policy of a continued fight against government controls and increased taxes.

He asserted, "We will need all the stamina of our pioneer ancestors to withstand the subtle encroachments of government in public housing, endeavors which

The New Republican Congress

By ETHEL GILLET WHITEHORN

It is important that you—the taxpayers and voters—have, at all times, (1) a clear picture of the activities of the 80th Congress now in session; (2) major legislation so vital to America after 14 long years of New Deal waste and confusion; (3) the voting records of your congressmen; (4) official statistics as reported in the Congressional Record. The Desert Sun, through this column, will sketch the picture for its readers. An informed citizenry is an alert citizenry.

Despite the Republican victory of last November 5, the New Deal is not dead. New Deal advisors still have the ear of the President. Certainly, Mr. Truman and his administration still believe in the old New Deal maxim—tax and tax and spend and spend.

YOU WILL READ and hear, as time goes on, the inevitable chidings of the leftist press and radio commentators that the new Republican-controlled Congress "drunk with power is out for no good." You will be told that the 80th Congress vacillates, procrastinates, and stops dead in its own tracks.

When you read and hear such statements, please remember this: The Republican party has always been the party of reconstruction since the days of Abraham Lincoln. This isn't the first time in American history that the Republicans have been called upon by an indignant populace to expel agitation and madness, which, if permitted to proceed, would destroy the very foundation of this the greatest government in the world.

Your new 80th Congress is not "stopping dead in its own tracks." It takes time to reorganize when another party is handed the reins by the people. Senate and House committees, sub-committees, and investigating committees must be chosen. That job is completed. These committees face the monumental task of breaking through the maze of confusion and extravagance which was the New Deal's contribution to government. Congressional committee-men and committeewomen are working day and night to bring order out of chaos so that legislation, healthy for America, can are but another means of government competition with private business; competition which notoriously demands local governmental services without adequately paying its share of the cost of such services, leaving it up to the rest of the taxpayers to foot the bill for the difference."

HE PRAISED the relaxation of wartime controls and added, "The California Real Estate Association will continue the fight until all controls are not only relaxed but entirely wiped off the statute books. I am still fundamentally opposed to going to Washington for permission to do something which I have always had the right to do."

Pointing out that the state budget will exceed the all-time high of $600,000,000 if all special appropriations asked for are granted, he reviewed the recent history of taxation in California and explained that the Riley-Stewart Act of 1933 relieved real estate from some of the school costs and nearly equalized the tax burden. However, real estate taxes are now higher than when the plan was adopted.

IT WILL be the duty of the Association to resist further taxes on real estate, to insist on further equality of taxation, to advocate a broadening of the tax base so that other sources of wealth shall pay their just share of the tax burden. We shall advocate a limitation of the amount of taxes real estate shall be called upon to pay," he declared. As to the future of the Association itself, President Gairaud announced that there are now more than 8500 members and 91 local boards, and the Association expects to pass the 10,000 mark in membership this year. When this goal is reached, he said, the California Real Estate Association, the largest state organization of its kind, will then surpass the membership of the National Association 25 years ago.

be brought before the full membership of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

THE BUDGET must and will be balanced. The American people demand rigid book-keeping. America is their national home, and the people are just as solicitous of the national budget as they are of their private budgets. The 80th Congress, aware of this fact, will not disappoint them.

Taxes must be reduced. Small business, which throughout American history, has been the backbone of this nation, must have the wherewithal to survive and expand. The 80th Congress will first balance the budget, then reduce taxes for our men and women who are builders, not destroyers.

LABOR LEGISLATION is a must. The election of last November was an ultimatum from the rank and file of labor, as well as from millions of Americans not tied in with labor, that this nation will no longer bend the knee to many alien-minded leaders who have gone all out to force America to accept the evils of communism. Labor legislation is in the making—NOW.

Hold fast to your faith in the 80th Congress! You will be glad that you did.

Desert Museum Notes

FILM CANCELLATION. There will be no Museum movies tonight because of priority use of the El Paseo Theatre by the local AMVET organization. The Friday series of films will be resumed a week from today, with the showing of "The Price of Rendova" and "Eve of Battle," two war orientation films, plus a third picture, "Wild Life on the Desert."

WINFIELD LINE TO SPEAK. Tomorrow night Winfield Line of this city will present the premier showing of his new Kodachrome movies taken this past year. The title of his talk will be "Our Western National Parks by Road and Air," and his movies will include shots of the Grand Canyon taken from his new aeroplane. Mr. Line is a well-known local sportsman, and holds many titles for marksmanship. For one season, just to see how it was conducted, he and Mrs. Line (Dr. Grace Song Line of Korea) worked at the fire-lookout station on Tahquitz Peak in our San Jacinto Mountains. Mr. Line is also a member of the Desert Museum's board of trustees.

SNOW CREEK TRIP. The Museum-conducted field trip this Saturday, February 22, will be to lovely Snow Creek Falls Canyon, one of the highest and most spectacular waterfalls in Southern California. Those desiring to go along should meet in front of the Museum at 9 a. m., bringing your lunch. The party will return by 5, and about 6 miles round-trip of hiking will be involved, over a fairly steep trail.

CATHEDRAL CITY Program. Last Wednesday evening in the Town Hall of Cathedral City, the Museum's director, Mr. Lloyd Mason Smith, gave a short talk and showed the film: "The Amazon Awakens." This program was arranged by Mrs. A. K. Dawson of that city, and was sponsored by the School Club.

DRIVE UNDERWAY. "If you haven't already become an active member of the Desert Museum, better send your check or currency to P. O. Box 411, Palm Springs, today, to make sure you'll receive a copy of the beautifully illustrated Second Annual Report. Only 1000 copies of this report were printed this year, and they will be distributed to members first," said Lloyd Mason Smith, director. Memberships are in serial categories to meet with individual budgets, and range from $5 per season up. The money from these membership donations will be used to purchase permanent items for the Desert Museum, such as exhibit cases, specimens, films and reference books for the Museum library, and other similar items not obtainable with the Community Chest allotment, which is for actual operating expenses only.

Dr. Grace Line
To Address Club

Dr. Grace Song Line, Palm Springs winter resident and a native of Korea, will be the dinner speaker at the University Club of Los Angeles this coming Friday.

Dr. Line will represent Michigan State College, and her topic will be on international understanding as a foundation for peace. Michigan State College now has 154 foreign students on the campus representing 34 different nationalities.

The alumni of the College plan an international center and memorial chapel to be erected in memory of the 326 M.S.C. boys who lost their lives in World War II. Dr. Line and her husband, Winfield H. Line, have been research members of the staff since the founding of the international course at the college.

Public Hearing
on Building Code

Public hearing will be conducted by the Riverside County Planning Commission, February 25, at 10 a. m., in the board room of the court house for the purpose of considering the adoption of a building code for the county.

The proposed building code will create ordinances regulating the erection, construction, enlargement, repair, moving, conversion, demolition, occupancy of buildings. Plumbing and electrical codes are also proposed. Zoning and the description of exceptions will also be contained in the planned regulations and the abolition of all present ordinances if the new ones are adopted.

Dates Set for Vacation Days

Vacation-minded students and teachers as well as parents projecting family trips will in advance may now draw circles around important dates for the next school year. Members of the Riverside Board of Education yesterday set the following calendar:

September 15—School begins.
December 19 to January 5—Christmas vacation.
March 19-29—Spring vacation.
June 11—School ends (1948).

An Open Letter

An Open Letter to the people of Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Garnet, and Desert Hot Springs:

The combined facilities of the Desert Elementary School District are now adequate for 765 pupils. The present combined attendance is 935 pupils. Next year we anticipate an attendance of at least 1100.

What are we going to do with the overload?

Can this community afford to curtail the education of its children, the future civic leaders?

Do we want to provide adequate school facilities for our children next year or are we satisfied with double session and overcrowded class rooms?

Are we interested in improved playground facilities in order to provide an adequate recreation program for our school neighborhoods?

These questions must be answered at the school bond election next Tuesday. How are YOU going to vote?

I urge you to vote "YES" for the general welfare of our children and youth, and for the self respect of our communities.

Sincerely,

KATHERINE FINCHY,
District Superintendent,
Desert School District.

BE EXPLICIT

Many years ago when Gov. David B. Hill was practicing law he had a case where Mr. Evart was his opponent. Hill was delivering his maiden speech. Like many young lawyers he was florid, rhetorical and tiresomely lengthy. For several weary hours he talked to the court and the jury. When he got through Mr. Evart deliberately arose, looked at the judge and said, "I will follow this example of my young friend who has just finished, and submit the case without argument."

New Musical Feature Starts
on Radio KCMJ

An attractive musical feature on KCMJ will be the Community Musicales program originating at the Community Church every Tuesday evening from 7 until 7:30, beginning February 25th.

Louis Lux, local pianist and organist, will be presented each week.

Miss Ruth Ann Fleming, soprano, will sing solos. Other artists to be heard will be announced later.

Holly Lash Visel and Lois Lux are arranging these musicals for music lovers and students of the community.

Visual Education
Subject Before
P-T. A. Workshop

Parent-Teachers' Workshop of Palm Springs met at the Nellie N. Coffman school recently with Mrs. S. L. Okerlund in charge. She introduced Ray Johnson, coordinator of visual education in Riverside county, who spoke on auditory and visual education in the classrooms.

Dr. E. E. Oertel, representing the high school, and Katherine Finchey of the Desert School district, spoke in behalf of the bond issue to be voted next Tuesday, February 25.

Vote "Yes" For Both School Bond Issues

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25

Between 12:00 Noon and 6:00 P. M. at One of the Following Polling Places

Frances Stevens School, Palm Springs
Cathedral City School, Cathedral City
Hall, Desert Hot Springs Improvement Association
Edom Elementary School, Thousand Palms

The Individuals Whose Names Appear Below Favor Voting "Yes" on Both School Bond Issues on February 25 for the Following Reasons:

1. The children of Palm Springs need additional school housing facilities because of over-crowding in existing buildings.
2. It is not fair to the children of Palm Springs to subject them to inadequate and inferior accommodations.
3. The future of Palm Springs is tied up with its schools and we want Palm Springs to have schools of which we can feel justly proud.
4. The districts are fully capable of financing the bonds.
5. Since school building expansion programs are inescapable it is good business to vote bonds now while interest rates are still low.
6. We favor paying for new school buildings out of serial bonds extending over a period of years (the proposed bonds run for 25 years) rather than on a pay-as-you-go basis which burdens taxpayers heavily now for buildings to be used many years hence.
7. THE TOTAL SCHOOL TAX RATE WILL BE DECREASED FOR THE NEXT FISCAL YEAR BY AT LEAST FOUR CENTS IF THESE BONDS CARRY, and it will continue to be lower than the total rate required for continuance of the present school financing program which includes a pay-as-you-go building levy to be discontinued if the bonds carry.
8. The school trustees have formulated sound building programs and are using good business judgment in recommending to the taxpayers methods for raising needed revenue and in devising schedules for disbursing it to meet expansion needs.

We, the undersigned, endorse the coming school bond issues and urge all registered voters to VOTE "YES" on both issues on TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25.

Episcopal Guild Musical Tea Is Delightful Event

One of the most delightful parties of the season was the musical tea, presented by the Guild of St. Paul's in the Desert, Episcopal church Tuesday afternoon at the Tennis club. The tea was a benefit for the Sunday school building fund.

There were several hundred guests in attendance with Mrs. John S. Lapp, president of the Guild, and the executive committee in the receiving line.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Hammond of the high school, presented a beautiful musical program, singing several selections from the musical show, "Oklahoma." The very clever cast of "Pinafore," from the high school, presented several numbers from that operetta. The high school cast will present the operetta on Feb. 28 at the Plaza theater.

The tea tables were beautifully decorated in spring flowers in pastel colors, by Mrs. Raymond Wilson.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Myron Wilson, Mrs. John S. Robson, Mrs. Douglas Fuller and Mrs. Frank Roberts, assisted by Shirley Crockett, Ann Oliver, Susan Oliver and Diane Cross.

Mrs. Frank Camp was in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk in charge of tickets.

G.I.'s PAY SET AT $2,700

It has been estimated that the lowest pay level in the armed services during World War II—$50 a month with various other financial advantages—was the equivalent of $2,700 in civilian life.

Picturing Palm Springs

By BARBARA SCHILLY

HOW SHOULD Palm Springs be pictured? As the friendly gracious place that it is. As with anything, the Village is the sum of its component parts, the parts being its citizens and visitors, of course. In Palm Springs there is a wonderful assemblage of fine, intelligent, active people, people who make the Village more interesting because of their social, civic, personal interests and affairs.

Here are a few of them, the first of a series in The Sun.

PICTURED upper left is Mrs. Ona Brown, one of Palm Springs most active hostesses. Mrs. Brown came to Palm Springs nine years ago from Hollywood where she was socially prominent. Her hobbies include dancing and horseback riding and, of course, party-giving, at which she is highly successful.

Upper center shows former mayor E. E. Therieau and Mrs. Therieau. Gene Therieau is now judge here. His hobby is golf but he says he is only a would-be golfer. Mrs. Therieau is a member of the Woman's club and both belong to the Tennis Club.

BOOSTER for Palm Springs and active in all of its affairs is Harry Harper, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Mrs. Harper. They are shown upper right. Permanent residents of the Village now, they have been weekending here for the past 14 winters. Mr. Harper is president of the Rotary club and in his spare time, indulges in gardening and photography. Mrs. Harper is vice president of the PEO, corresponding secretary of the Welfare and Friendly Aid society and active in Girl Scout work.

Lower left depicts Mrs. Josephine Sprague, past president of the Woman's club and active in that organization's work and in her duties as a member of the board of the Community hospital.

PICTURED in the yard of her lovely home at 701 N. Patencio is Mrs. J. M. Wood, (lower center). Mrs. Wood has resided here for nine years and is an avid Palm Springs booster. Her very occupying hobby is her two very cut-dlesome scotties, Cinder and Putter. They are both around 12 to 14 years old and can claim title to having had one of the few "Dog's Eye View" of the growth of Palm Springs.

Well known in Palm Springs is Mrs. Clay Borden who has resided in her home on Mel avenue for four years. Popular Mrs. Borden is a member of the Racquet Club and the Desert Riders. Her two sons, Philip and Christopher share her enthusiasm for horses and the three can often be found riding from The Stables. She is shown lower right.

Doing the Village with Moya Henderson

The much needed rain still keeps trying to avoid us although coming threateningly close. Even the mountain received a coating of snow and it was an unusual sight, even for the desert, to look up and see snow clouds over San Jacinto while the sun was shining here.

Snow on the mountains means water for the dry summer months and by the way—the Idyllwild Colony is building up, they'll need plenty this summer.

Marie Belyea has been busy making trips up the Hill while realtor Jerry Johnson and his wife Eleanor are touring New York City, Florida and Cuba this winter.

THE WOODMANSEES have purchased the Fern Valley property adjoining the Carl Lykken's, good news to Palm Springers who will be happy to have one of their favorite doctors practicing in the summer colony. The Harry Williams, with their sons Roger and Stuart, are now the proud owners of the Charles Laughton estate also in Fern Valley.

New additions on the Hill all make for bigger and better bridge parties but who will supply the laughs if Vera Nicholson migrates to Los Angeles and Jane Neel stays in the Village as now planned?

A LAST CELEBRATION before issuing in the Lenten season was the tea and musicale given by the Episcopal Guild at the Tennis Club on Shrove Tuesday. Tickets to the event were sold out days before hand which was evident by the overflowing dining room. Lovely spring flowers, arranged by Mrs. Ray Wilson, decorated the long tea table.

Guests gathered around the dance floor where the Palm Springs high school glee clubs, under the direction of Alexander Hammond, sang selections from H.M.S. Pinafore, an operetta they will present to the public next Friday evening at the Plaza Theater. Then Mr. and Mrs. Hammond delighted the audience with songs from Oklahoma. They were accompanied by Lois Lux.

JOINING Florence Lockett and Vera Nicholson for tea was Judy Fry, down from Redlands for the afternoon. Juanita Crockett had as her guest her daughter Donna Mills.

Traffic became a bit congested as the tea guests assembled for the really board was just adjourning from their luncheon. Many stopped to stare as men in business suits with gay striped burnouses adorning their heads made their exit from the club. No the luncheon was not a costume affair, the Indian and Coachella Valley delegation were just giving a little advance publicity to the County Fair opening in Indio on Saturday.

LAST SUNDAY'S gymkhana at B-Bar-H ranch attracted many to the other side of the valley. Wall Spalding and Ernie Andre were seen prancing about the ring. All proceeds of the afternoon are to be used to build a Catholic church in Desert Hot Springs.

Enthusiasts of western events will be interested in the quarter horse races scheduled for Sunday at the Field Club. The show will include roping and tying and other races and will be put on by the Los Compadres.

BACK IN TOWN after a Nevada honeymoon are Ruth and Claud Velour. They are now established residents of Tahquitz Estates. The young couple spent their first evening at home dining with Ruth's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson, at the Desert Inn.

The San Jose guests of the Gus Kettman's, Coral and Harry Hoene have returned north and the Kettmans are now looking forward to a visit from another old friend from the home town.

The Ehlers are back in town after a short trip to San Jose.

Once again the gentle reminder that there is an important bond issue to be voted on this month. Have you registered?

According to statisticians the National income in the U. S. was 161 billion dollars in 1945. In 1932 the income of the whole United States was less than 40 billion dollars.

Why does a snake shed his skin, you ask? That's the only way he can grow. Our own skin is shed continually, scale by scale, so that we don't actually notice it... except when we get badly sunburned. But reptiles discard their outer skin all at one time, literally crawl out of it whole, leaving a shell behind which naturalists call an exuvium. When this old skin is shed, the snake grows a little before the new skin beneath, which is still a bit elastic, becomes hardened and protective. Snakes have no eyelids, so even the skin off the surface of the eyes, like watch-glasses, is shed. During this period of moulting, there are one or two days when the snake is blind, but this time is very short and since snakes do not depend upon sight to detect prey or enemy, it is relatively unimportant to the snake.

WHEN A SNAKE is ready to shed his skin, he becomes restless. His color is faded and dull; the skin actually looks dirty. Then the reptile crawls to a nearby rock and by nudging against its sharp surfaces, manages to scrape the dried skin away from the nose area. Then by persistent twisting and squirming against rough surfaces, the skin is worked off the head intact. If a crack between two rocks is available, the snake will now crawl into it, wedge the skin there, and quickly and smoothly slide right on out of its skin, as pretty as you please. The exuvia, these shed skins, are left where they drop, and are quickly destroyed by the wind and rain, or sometimes incorporated into nests by some desert birds. Whether this use by birds of the snake skin is intentional, to frighten away would-be enemies, or just in answer to an instinctive urge to decorate, has never been ascertained.

THE SIDEWINDER is one of the smallest of all our American rattlers, having an average length of 20 inches, and a maximum of 30. Certainly not the huge reptile our visitors from the East have envisioned from the tall tales they've heard about them. And because they are so small, stories are spun that they are that much more deadly, that their poison is the worst of all rattlesnakes, that to be bitten by a sidewinder is practically instant death. Of course all these statements are untrue.

Actually, because it is small, this little rattler is really less harmful than your big Texas diamond-back, for instance... simply because the bigger the snake, the larger the quantity of venom it can inject if it should happen to bite you; and, conversely, the smaller the snake, the less poison you will receive. As for the sidewinder's venom being more potent, drop for drop, than any other species of rattlesnakes, this is not borne out by actual experimentation.

BUT DO NOT be misled by these facts. The sidewinder is a dangerous reptile, and not one to be ignored. Unless you were very young, aged, or in a weakened condition, the bite of a sidewinder would probably not kill you, if properly treated; but it would make you very ill. Still, there is no need for continuous worry over being bitten. Very, very few persons are ever struck by a rattler, only one in every several thousands. And of those bitten, less than one tenth of one per cent have ever died. So you can readily see by these figures that your chances of even being bitten are mighty slim, and of dying from such a bite, practically negligible.

The sidewinder is often also called the Horned Rattler, because he has two prominent scales, one over each eye, that project upward like miniature horns. These scales quickly distinguish the sidewinder from all other species of rattlesnakes, and make identification positive. The young of several other desert species are often erroneously called sidewinders, but they do not possess these tell-tale "horns."

BUT WHY the vernacular name, Sidewinder? Strange as it may seem to those who have never seen this peculiar snake in action, the sidewinder actually does move sideways, in a most unusual side-looping that carries the snake's body laterally instead of in the normal snake fashion. This is a special adaptation to the sandy terrain in which the sidewinder lives, for he would be unable to climb up the steep loose surfaces of sand dunes by wriggling in the usual forward direction. But, by looping his body in an S-shaped manner, leaving a trail of disjointed "J"-shaped marks in the sand behind him, he can go right up the steepest dune slope with great alacrity. It is rather odd that the famous horned viper of the Sahara, which is only distantly related to the sidewinder, also has horned scales over the eyes and also moves sideways! Here is an instance where two unrelated creatures, both living under similar climatic conditions, have evolved an almost identical kind of locomotion. In this case, environment would seem to be the dominant factor.

(To be continued Tuesday)

THE VALUABLE PALM

Everything connected with a coconut palm tree is usable; leaves and trunks are used for houses, the husk around the nut shell yields a fiber, the milk is a cooling drink, the meat is food; when the meat is dried it becomes copra, a source of oil.

It WOULD be pretty silly to try to put a 3-year-size suit on a 10-year-old boy. Personally we don't think you can do it, but even if you could, his buttons would pop off in all directions.
Well, something like that has been going on in the telephone business. Telephone usage grew into a great big boy almost over night, as you might say, and we've been trying to squeeze him into a suit of equipment several sizes too small.
But we've been shopping, just like you, and are happy to report that some fine new clothes are on the way - the right size too, and modern.
Deliveries of the new equipment are exasperatingly slow and we get very impatient, but we're doing our best to give you better and better service as fast as we can.
